

CINECRAFT FLASHBACK FRIDAY Special Christmas Edition

Inbox

Neil McCormick <neil@cinecraft.com>

Fri, Dec 22, 2017,
11:57 AM

It is a special Christmas Edition of Cinecraft FlashBack Friday.

This clip features Wayne Turney , famed Cleveland Playhouse actor in the 1970's and 80's. Wayne also wrote and hosted an award winning TV program for kids on WKYC-TV back in the 80's called Hickory Hideout with co-star Cassie Wolfe.

This was a TV Spot Wayne and his wife Harper produced to promote his recording of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol created back in 1982. The spot features wife Harper doing the voice- over, their son on Dad's lap for a reading the Dicken's classic, and Wayne making a brief vignette as Scrooge.

After his time at the Cleveland Playhouse, Wayne was a professor at Cleveland State in the 90's and currently is a Professor of Theatre at DeSalles University near Philadelphia. (Wayne will be featured in some future FlashBack Fridays from our recently harvested collection of 2" Quad video tapes from the early 1980's...all thanks to Cinecraft alum Dave Wolaver - an extraordinary video engineer and his Ampex AVR2 Quad tape machine at Crawford Video in Atlanta.)

Here's the link to the Scrooge TV-SPOT

<https://youtu.be/trKTJOLomqg>

And we've started doing something new, a brief video "Talk About" for our Flashback Friday clips. These feature Cinecraft Creative Director Chris Karel and yours truly talking about this episode...and goofing around.

Here's the link to the "Talk About"

https://youtu.be/6wHjWRH5_z8

Merry Christmas
Neil